THEOLOGY TASTER COURSE at Queens (May – June 2018)

Topics include:

- Systematic Theology
- Biblical Studies
- Church History
- Spirituality
- Black Theology
- Womanist Theology

The Centre for Discipleship and Theology (CDT) at Queen's is pleased to announce the successful introduction of its Taster course in Theology.

We are currently accepting requests for our waiting list READY TO START in May 2018.

The course is an opportunity for prospective students of Queen's to gain study skills that will give them confidence for studying theology at Higher Education level. Participants will be offered a framework for studying Christian theology, ministry and mission in order to enable them to engage in critical thinking and theological reflection. There will be an emphasis on Black and Asian theology.

The sessions will be lively and interactive, and participants will be able to 'taste' life at Queen's with staff and students on campus. Participants will be encouraged to attend all sessions in order to maximize the opportunity of being equipped for HE study in the near future. The commitment for attendance will include two Saturdays (all day) and four consecutive Wednesday evenings. The £50 fee for all participants includes meals and refreshments.

By the end of the course,
participants
will be able to:

- Reflect on how scripture, spirituality and tradition can all be sources of Christian theology
- Evaluate the value of different approaches to the task of theological study and reflection
- Carry out a guided task that will involve independent enquiry and theological reflection
